EXECUTIVE STAMP PLACED ON ACT

La Follette Had Special Agent Work on Mc-Claughray Case

THEN FILE CHARGE

Commission for Inquiry Made May 19, Filed June 5, After Board Meeting

STRANGE ACTIONS

Evidence is not lacking that through the machinations of His Honor, the Governor, the entire control and dictation of all the state public institutions are rapidly coming under his personal control fit to be used at his discretion for personal and political purposes.

The removal of Warren McClaughry from his post at Waupun by what might be called a star chamber method goes back into the dark ages when "Might Was Right" and the poor weak serf could but bow his head and suffer what penalties his liege lord chose to inflict. With the removal of McClaughry many facts come to light that explain the actions of Wisconsin's chief executive for the past year. Facts that might have remained covered and concealed under the cloak of darkness had not the blunder been made of openly prostituting public service for selfish ends and political purposes.

Commission Filed

In the secretary of state's office at Madison late yesterday afternoon was the commission of Attorney C. E. Hooker, of Waupun, as special agent for the Governor to investigate the charges and complaints made against Warden McClaughry and bring in a favorable report to the board of control. While the commission was made out under the law in proper form May 19, it was not filed until yesterday. While the law is not expressly implicit as to just when such a commission shall be filed in the secretary of state's office, it is understood that such commissions are to be filed immediately on being signed.

Filing Delayed

The distance between the desk of Chief Clerk Rogers, in the Governor's office is not more than ninety feet from that of Chief Clerk Hy. P. Schmidt of the secretary of state's office, yet it took this commission eighteen days to get across the hall and have the stamp of the secretary of state's office placed upon it.

Attorney Hooker does not go unrewarded for his nefarious work. For each day that he was at work investigating the charges sent him by the Governor he received $6.50 from the state treasury which the tax payers of the state help to fill up each year. Nor was Mr. Hooker's work hard to do. Waupun, where most of the investigation was made has been hostile to McClaughry since first he came there two and a half years ago. Any story that would reflect upon the management of the state institution that the citizens so long considered as their own would find ready ears and more ready repeaters.

Bad Mr. McClaughry

The charges against Warden McClaughry were cruelty to the prisoners and the use of foul and abusive language. He is himself a true Christian and an excellent disciplinarian. Even the board of control recognized this fact and until they received an intimation from the Governor that Mr. McClaughry was "really unkind" to his charges sent to prison for many awful crimes against their fellow men, that he, "really swore" at the deputies and prisoners because they did not do as he would have them, they were ready to send him back to Waupun for another term of service with the recommendation, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

That Weak Letter

This fact they made known in their letter explaining just how McClaughry happened to resign and what part the Governor played in it, published yesterday. They made the mistake of trying to clear the Governor and have laid open to public inspection a long series of changes in officials in the various state institutions. Since LaFollette became chief executive that savor more of the political than the true necessity of inefficiency or misconduct in office that has always been the hue and cry of the executive machine when such changes have been made.

Controls The Board

By special legislation of his own making, it is so arranged now that when an appointment is to be made by the board of control these gentlemen merely send an envoy to Mr. Governor and say: "May we do so and so." If he approves they meet with great eclat and after a big splurge pass the order chopping off some official head or letting a meat contract and are happy. If he disapproves they retire to their office at the north end of the main hall of the capitol building and sit down way back in the back part of the back room.

If the governor should be re-nominated July 16, so completely has he gained control over the board that no section of the then state institutions will escape his eagle eye and he will change the homes for the poor unfortunate of the state into political machines where every superintendent, teacher, attendant or employee must be an active worker for the executive machine and control roles or off goes his head and in goes a new one.

Changes Custom

It has been the custom for many years for the superintendents of the various state schools to send the names of the teachers and instructors for the coming year to the board of control and then on their approval write to the successful candidate announcing that they had been appointed and at what salary for the coming year. Some two years ago this was changed. The board itself directly sent the letter to the elected teacher and the teacher or employee had this letter as their credentials for the coming year's work.

This year the wisdom of the executive machine saw a difficulty and to overcome it they merely told the superintendent of the school to tell the she or he had been elected for the coming year. This gives great possibilities. Should the Governor see that he can use the position held by the teacher to an advantage for a political friend there is no letter to of appointment to be overcome merely a few words spoken verbally and since then it has developed that the services of the employees are not satisfactory and that they must resign. A clever dodge well worked, but only too clearly showing the temperament of the entire workings of the political machine the Governor with all his wisdom and cunning has built up about himself and his satellites.

McClaughray Denies Story

Warden McClaughry denies that he was given a fair show. He asserts that for some time before he had any intimation that anything was radically wrong a Milwaukee man was in Waupun and it was told him that he was to be the new warden. That he did swear at the man referred to. That the man was a crook and instead of guarding prisoners should have been inside the bars himself.

He says that severity is often a necessity with the treatment of prisoners and men who have degraded themselves to that extent that they do not value human life, must be treated as such and guarded and watched as such. This and no more he asserts he did.

In speaking of the affidavits that are said to be held as evidence against him Mr. McClaughry says that he has positive information that many of them are from men who he has had occasion to rap over the knuckles officially. One of the affidavits is at present under bond in Dodge county for bringing contraband articles to prisoners. Such men are his enemies.

Madison, Wis., June 6.—(Special) —It has finally developed that Attorney and ex-Assemblyman C. Bookner of Waupun is the man whom Mr. Follette appointed to investigate and report on Warden McClaughry of the state prison. The appointment is dated May 19, but it was not made with the secretary of state, where all appointments must be recorded, until yesterday afternoon, June 5.

The appointment was made under chapter 403, laws of 1901, which provides that "whenever the governor shall deem it expedient to have an investigation made of any charitable, reformatory or penal institution of the state or of any matter connected therewith, or of any other state institution, or employee in any of the said institutions, he may appoint a suitable person, male or female, in his discretion to make such investigation and shall require a written report thereof." The pay is $6.50 per day for the time actually spent in the work, and expenses.

SEEK BETRAYER OF WAR SECRETS

The President and Secretary Root Will Go to the Bottom of the Matter.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Root will do everything in their power to discover who is responsible for divulging the secrets of the War department, and army officers, clerks, and messengers will be questioned closely with a view to discovering the traitor. For the same being the importance of this discovery has overshadowed that which was attached to the report read by Senator Culbertson, and General Miles' supposed connection with the document. For two days this investigation has been in progress, but nothing tangible has yet been discovered which will lead to the discovery of the person or persons who are surreptitiously extracting these supposedly well-guarded papers.

Was Information Stolen

Emphatic denials as to any connection with the incident which has so disturbed the President and Secretary of War have been made by General Corbin, General Davis, the Judge Advocate General, and of course there never has been any suspicion that the Secretary himself is responsible for the publication of Captain West's report.

Miles Not Guilty

General Miles is still absent from the city, but every officer on duty at his headquarters asserts positively the documents did not get out through the office of General Miles. Just before the department closed Secretary Root declined to say whether General Miles would be communicated with by telegraph or whether he would await the Commanding General's return to Washington before taking up the matter.

MINERS EXCITED

More Trouble Feared, as the Men Are Thoroughly Enraged Over the Affair.

STRIKERS ARE AHEAD

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 6.—The quiet and peaceful conditions that have characterized the strike of the anthracite miners during the past month have at last given way to riotous scenes and bloodshed. The feeling against the coal and iron police who last night shot the ten year old boy is intensely bitter today. Strikers are in a desperate state of anger and from now on the authorities expect turbulent scenes. Trouble was narrowly averted this morning at the Stanton mine when a coal and iron policeman drew a revolver on a crowd of strikers who begged him to give up his commission.

Trouble Comes

A disturbance between the strikers and deputies in Freeland is reported. Several were bruised in the scuffle. The statement was made today that it is the intention of the coal companies to take advantage of the inter-state commerce law and appeal to the Federal Judge for an injunction to prevent the strikers from interfering with mining or the transportation of coal.

The operators admit today that nearly all of the firemen, engineers and pumpmen have joined the strikers, but say the pumps and engines are working.

Will Go Out Tomorrow

Bluefield, W. Va., June 6.—Tomorrow is the day set by the United Mine Workers of Virginia and West Virginia to strike. The indications are that the most of them will quit. The strike feeling is intense.

Hannan, who went to Madison yesterday to consult with Secretary True, said today that the fair could be changed to a later date without much trouble and little loss. The printing put out would have to be replaced, and this would involve an extra expenditure of about $1,000, but this he thought the board would be very willing to stand in view of the advantages of having the President visit the fair.

A STRANGE FACT

Volcano Causes Floating Islands In Atlantic

New York, June 6.—Captain Warnecke of the Norwegian steamer Dona, from Banes for Philadelphia with fruit, tells this remarkable story: "We were two days out from Banes and about thirty miles from Watlin's Island in the Caribbean Sea, when we came upon a floating island. I, with the mate and several of the crew rowed toward it. Thousands of little monkeys scampered all about the shore, and when we were in range they began a bombardment by shelling cocoanuts at us."

The following day we discovered another floating island and landed.

This time we were greeted by a colony of parrots of most brilliant plumage."

Captain Warnecke declared that the eruption in Martinique had shaken up the entire district and that the small piece of land had become separated from some uninhabited island.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT

Some interesting statistics are being furnished by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics concerning the rapid growth and development of the country.

The world's product of pig iron in 1901 was 40,408,000 tons, of which the United States produced nearly 16,000,000 tons, showing an increase of 1,000 per cent since 1870. Our exports of steel and iron for 1891, amounted to $117,000,000.

The same authority refers to South Africa as the great undeveloped field now open to the markets of the world.

Africa occupies fourth place in the list of grand divisions of the world, in its consuming power in relation to international commerce, the imports of the grand divisions according to the latest available figures being as follows: Europe, $8,360,000,000; North America, $1,300,000,000; Asia, $900,000,000; Africa, $430,000,000; South America, $375,000,000; and Oceanic, $325,000,000. Of this total of $16,630,000,000, the United States supplies 5 per cent. in the case of Africa, 10 per cent. of the imports of South America, 10 per cent. of those of Asia and Oceanic, 14 per cent., 14 per cent. of the imports of Europe and 40 per cent. of the imports of North America, exclusive of the United States.

Railroad development in Africa has been rapid in the past few years and seems to be the beginning of a great system which must contribute to the rapid development, civilization, and enlightenment of the Dark Continent. Already railroads run northwardly from Cape Colony about 1,500 miles and southwardly from Cairo about 1,200 miles, thus completing 2,700 miles of the proposed "Cape to Cairo" railroad, while the intermediate distance is about 3,000 miles. At the north numerous lines skirt the Mediterranean coast, especially in the French territories of Algeria and in Tunis, aggregating about 2,500 miles; while the Egyptian railroads are, including those under construction, about 1,500 miles in length. Those of Cape Colony are over 3,000 miles in length, and those of Portuguese, East Africa and the Transvaal are another thousand miles in length. Including all of the railroads now constructed or under actual construction, the total length of African railways is nearly 12,500 miles, or half the distance around the earth. A large proportion of the railways thus far constructed are owned by the several colonies or states which they traverse, about 2,000 miles of the Cape Colony system and nearly all of that of Egypt belonging to the State.

That the gold and diamond mines of South Africa have been and still are wonderfully profitable, is beyond question. The Kimberly diamond mines, about 600 miles from Cape Town, now supply 98 per cent. of the diamonds of commerce, although their existence was unknown prior to 1867, and the mines have thus been in operation but 30 years. It is estimated that $350,000,000 worth of rough diamonds, worth double that sum after cutting, have been produced from the Kimberly mines since their opening in 1868-9, and this enormous production would have been greatly increased but for the fact that the owners of the various mines there formed an agreement to limit the output so as not to materially exceed the world's annual consumption.

Equally wonderful and promising are the great "Whitwatersrand" gold fields of South Africa, better known as the "Johannesburg" mines. Gold was discovered there in 1883, and in 1884 the value of the gold product was about $50,000. It increased with startling rapidity, the product of 1888 being about $5,000,000; that of 1890, $10,000,000; 1892, over $20,000,000; 1895, over $40,000,000, and 1897 and 1898, about $55,000,000.

The State Board of Control makes the unvarnished statement that the Governor has never interfered with appointments in State institutions, but they don't say anything about his right bower, Murphy. Proxies may not be a good thing in a state convention, but they are very convenient around the executive chamber.

The strike conditions in Chicago are deplorable, and are more serious so far as life and property are concerned, than the coal strike in the east. The gulf between capital and labor appears to be widening every year, and it may become necessary for capital to retire from the field and let labor settle the contest.

As the campaign progresses, it is becoming more and more apparent that Spooner and LaFollette are an impossibility. Republicans are called upon to decide which it shall be. When the fact is fully realized, there will be no question about results.

REPENTANCE.

Things do not invariably happen fortuitously, even when religion is concerned, notes the Philadelphia Times in its "Tales Worth Telling." From Towanda, Penn., comes the story from a very fervid revival meeting in an up-state Methodist church. Worship there was primitive and simple; the emotions were given unrestrained expression. An old backslidder had been moving uneasily under the exhortation of the various lusty-lunged speakers, groaned once or twice as though in soul agony, and finally arose and addressed the assemblage thus: "Brothers! Sisters! Do something for me! I feel that I am going straight to hell!" "Glory! Glory!" came from all over the church. "Help me, brothers and sisters," went on the repentent one. "I know I'm on the road to damnation!" The congregation seemed to think that song was the one thing needful, and spiritedly joined in when a sturdy back woods basso tunefully roared out the opening lines of the stirring old hymn:

If you get there before I do, Just tell them that I am coming to!

memory, and from the time that the President declined to place him in active command in the Philippines, he has posed as a martyr.

The nation has been humiliated through the erratic course pursued and it is high time to call a halt. It is bad enough for the administration to be annoyed and hampered by the misdirected sympathy of men prominent in the legislative branch of government without being stabbed in the back by army officials.

The charges against General Miles may be exaggerated, but enough is known of the man to warrant the assertion that he has outlived his usefulness as a commanding officer. The President is entitled to loyal support and this the General has not accorded.

THE FROST MORTGAGE BILL

The Frost Mortgage Bill, passed by both branches of the legislature and vetoed by the Governor, is exciting a good deal of attention. The object of this bill was to relieve the farmer of double taxation and its provisions seemed so fair that it was readily endorsed.

When the Tax Commission decided that all property should be assessed at full valuation, it was very evident that the farmer owning a $10,000 farm with a $5,000 mortgage on it, would be obliged to pay a double tax.

His equity in the farm would be $5,000 but he would be called on to pay taxes on a $10,000 valuation. The Frost bill attempted to regulate this injustice by having the mortgagee pay taxes on his $5,000 equity.

It is perhaps true that if the bill had become a law, that rates of interest would have advanced. That would depend very largely on the state of the money market. Mortgagors on real estate very frequently escape taxation, but why they should, has never been satisfactorily explained. Invested money represents property whether in land or a mortgage on the land.

Under the old system of assessed valuation, representing not to exceed half its value, there was less injustice and but little attention was paid to mortgages, but under the present system, the real estate owner is required to pay his own and the mortgagor's equity, where property is encumbered.

The Governor vetoed the Frost bill on the ground of unconstitutionality, without an effort to save it, but he came to the relief of the farmer by also vetoing the dog tax, consistency is a jewel which the governor seems to possess.

The republicans in Dane county hold their caucuses on the 17th of June to elect delegates to their county convention, to be held at Madison, July 2nd. The call is very adroitly drawn and shows the fine hand of the assembly districts in Dane county. Under the call, there is nothing to prevent the Unit rule. If applied it will simply establish a precedent for the balance of the state. The proceedings will be watched with interest.

Geo. W. Nellis, the very efficient editor and manager of the LaCrosse Republican and Leader, is succeeded by Mr. Puhler, formerly city editor of the Gazette. Mr. Nellis is one of the best newspaper men in the state, and under his management, the LaCrosse paper has come to the front and is recognized as one of the best papers in the state. Mr. Finch, the proprietor, is a consul in South America.

The State Board of Control makes the unvarnished statement that the Governor has never interfered with appointments in State institutions, but they don't say anything about his right bower, Murphy. Proxies may not be a good thing in a state convention, but they are very convenient around the executive chamber.

General Miles appears to be up against the real thing. He is accused of revealing army secrets and a court martial is likely to follow. President Roosevelt was in favor of retiring him two months ago, but was advised against it by Senators. From late developments, it appears that the President's estimate of the man was correct, and his contemplated action warranted.

General Miles has been more or less of a thorn in the flesh, ever since the Spanish war brought him into prominence. His connection with the canned beef episode is still fresh in

PRESS COMMENT.

The series of letters on state, political and economic matters being written by John M. Whitehead to the Milwaukee Sentinel gather interest as they progress. They are being read with avidity by the general public and are largely commented upon in the newspapers. In a clear, lucid style, he dissects the dangers in the proposed primary law and elucidates plainly its dangerous effects if passed. He began an explanation of the tax commission law, in his article published yesterday which promises to be interesting before he finishes.—La Crosse Republican & Leader.

Green Bay Gazette: This from the LaCrosse Chronicle is a sample bouquet such as is being thrown daily at Senator Spooner by the half breed press: "If we are not expected to believe John C. Spooner when he writes it all down and then signs his name to it, is it not somewhat unreasonable to expect the country to believe what he merely says in a speech?" Of course they mean it, too, when they say that they love Spooner next to LaFollette and that the campaign cry must be Spooner and LaFollette."

Baraboo News: Abuse such as was heard from the lips of Attorney Bancroft at the court house, Saturday evening, does not win support for a cause. Blackguarding one's opponents is a poor substitute for arguments and appeals only to the ignorant. Bancroft's style is on par with that of his boss, LaFollette, and the more he speaks, the more friends he will make for the other side.

Milwaukee Mirror-Gazette, Ind: The conventions being held reveal a disposition to pass resolutions favoring both LaFollette and Spooner. As well talk of combining fire and powder. No man who knows anything of the political situation believes for a moment that there is any sincerity in such a proposal.

Richland Co. Observer: LaFollette paid $55 per day for a special train which he claims was the regular rate. Richland Center people had to pay $120 for a special train to go to Muscoda and return, a distance of 56 miles. Turn to page 26 in the "Voter's Hand Book" and you will see the point.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: The Madison State Journal's forecast of Republican state convention delegations was seriously defective in many particulars, but it made no mistake in assigning Walworth county's solid twenty to Whitehead.

Milwaukee Journal: Gov. LaFollette has told why he considered the Frost Mortgage bill unconstitutional. Now, will he tell us why he signed the Overbeck ice bill?

TAX BILL WITHDRAWALS.

It should not be forgotten that Senator Whitehead in withdrawing the different tax bills from the senate file, done so not because any hostility, but because the bills had been defeated. There was no opposition whatever on the part of any LaFollette supporter, not a protest. But, it should also be stated that in the house the same bills were withdrawn by Assemblyman Hall, as staunch a supporter as the governor had. In neither case was there an objection and their withdrawal had nothing to do with their personal opinions.

John M. Whitehead favors tax reform as he ever did. He was the father of the tax commission and no man in the state more than he, will wish every success in reporting a tax reform that will be equitable and compel the payment of taxes from sources that have never paid what they should. Therefore any criticism of Mr. Whitehead fails with precisely equal weight upon Assemblyman Hall representing the governor.

HAS CROSSED LIFE'S RIVER

William Harlow Palmer, One of Janesville Pioneers, Died This Morning—Funeral Sunday.

At Beloit this morning at 5 o'clock William Harlow Palmer passed to the beyond to join the hosts gone before to that land of reservation for all.

The deceased was an old resident of Janesville, but on account of age and declining health he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Jebeau at Beloit, for a few years past, frequently coming to Janesville on business and in social way.

Ripe for the harvest of the sickle of time, rest from a long life of useful labor, he lies him down to sleep, prepared and un-murmuring.

Mr. Palmer was born at Clarendon, Orleans county, New York, June 13th in 1878. He removed to Vermont when but seven years old, remaining there about 25 years, engaged in stage and canal work. He then came to Janesville and took up farming for five years, after which time he was employed in the grain elevating and drayage business.

Politically he was a sound money war democrat, religiously he leaned to Universalism. He was a veteran of the great Civil War, enlisted here with seventy others, by Capt. E. G. Harlow for the 12th Wis. Battery, then in the field, and was in active service in that branch to the close of war.

He was in the campaigns under Grant and Sherman in the West and with Sherman in the world-renowned march from Atlanta to the sea and of every day's siege and of the capture of Vicksburg. He was also in the battles of Corinth and Altoona and many other engagements under those generals. He was exemplary industrious and of sterling integrity.

He was married at Derby Line, Vermont, 1839, to Elizabeth Brodie with whom he lived until 1886 when she died. He leaves as mourners: C. A. Palmer, of this city, and Mrs. A. A. Jebeau, of Beloit, at whose home his death occurred.

The funeral will take place from the residence of C. A. Palmer, 53 Terrace street on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Denison will hold the services. The service at the grave will be that of the Grand Army of the Republic, by the W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20.

MOST COSTLY OF STORES

Smiths' Pharmacy is The Ideal Drug Store Of The City

At a cost of several thousand dollars, Smiths' pharmacy, adjoining the post office, has been remodeled throughout and tomorrow will be ready for inspection. It is only in justice to this enterprising firm, the Smith Drug Company, to state that their drug store is the model one in Janesville and second to none in the state of Wisconsin. No expense has been spared.

The interior furnishings are in highly polished light oak, offset by handsome and costly mirrors and trimmings. The soda fountain alone cost $1,800 and is constructed of specially selected Mexican onyx, beautified by five mirrors.

The flooring throughout the store is of tile. Handsome palms beautify the place which is 95 feet in length by 22 feet in width. The Smith Drug Co. started in business in their present location eleven years ago, at that time occupying but one-half of the store. Courteous, treatment at all times and honorable business methods has today resulted in their being in possession of a store that the citizens of Janesville and Rock county may well feel proud of, as being a credit to any community.

Tomorrow the public is most cordially invited to visit this model establishment.

LAW IS MIGHTY FUNNY SOMETIMES

Pertinent Question to Grass Widows, Is Your Divorce Properly Filed?

If some of the parties that have secured divorce in the last few years will take the trouble to examine the records in the clerk of the court's office they will find that they are not and never have been divorced.

There are several couples residing in and near this city, that have re-married since the time they supposed that they secured a divorce and have children by the second marriage. In some of the cases the parties are not ignorant of the fact that there is no judgment on record, but are taking a chance that nothing will ever be said about it.

Must Pay Fees

This condition of affairs arises from the fact that after the testimony has been taken and a judgment ordered, the attorney in the case does not draw the judgment and make it a matter of record until the fees are paid. Until this is done, although the testimony has been taken the parties are no more divorced than they were before the action was commenced.

Trouble Will Come

Many of these parties re-married before the year was up without order of the court, which is in itself sufficient grounds for the judge to set aside a decree of divorce. In some of the cases the defendant in the action has re-married without ever taking the trouble to see if the judgment divorcing his former wife is on record. In cases of this kind there is no excuse for the parties and they are liable to arrest for adultery.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Tobacco Safe: A. N. Jones yesterday sold the last of his 1900 packing. It consisted of 250 cases and was bound for shipment to the old country.

Inter-Urban Running: The Inter-Urban line carried passengers from Beloit to Rockford on Wednesday. They had seats built on flat cars and used a steam engine for motive power. Their electrical plant is not yet in running order.

Base Ball: Saturday afternoon the high school base ball team and the Monroe high school team will play a match game at Athletic park. This should be one of the best high school games of the season.

The High school boys put up a fine game and outplayed their opponents at every point.

Vandals At Work: Vandals have already started destroying the decorative flower beds in the Court House park. They are not satisfied with stealing all of the blossoms from the plants but break down the wire fences and trample the plants into the ground. There is a severe penalty for acts of this sort and any party caught doing them will get the limit.

It leaves on the return trip Sunday night and reaches here Monday morning. Some of the finest fishing grounds in the state are in this neighborhood and the excursionists will have a good chance to enjoy it.

Mutilated Signs: S. C. Burnham & Co. are among the sufferers from the spirit of vandalism which is prevalent and which has manifested itself in many ways besides the destruction of plants and the tearing down of the wire fencing around the newly made flower beds in the parks. The brass signs in front of S. C. Burnham's Jewelry store have been badly mutilated, the black letterings having been dug out with a knife and the brass scratched and dented. Such destruction of property can hardly be attributed to a thoughtless love of fun.

MISSIONARY WORK BY YOUNG PEOPLE

Representative People Participate In an Interesting Service at Court Street M. E. Church.

Missionary services, designed for young people, took the place of the regular prayer meeting service at Court street M. E. church last evening. The Sunday school room was well-filled and the program was rather unique in nature, being a resume of the work which is being done by the young people in the various churches and Christian organizations.

Miss Susie Lowell, who has been the general secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association at the University of Wisconsin, presided. In her brief remarks, introductory to the program, she stated that the subject of the meeting would be "The Youth of Our Lands and the Youth Abroad; Energy Applied and Misapplied." The motto was "Go; let go; help go;" a motto which included every individual in at least one of its provisions. She also spoke briefly of the importance of the work for and by young people.

Work of Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Elizabeth Butler, a member of the state committee of the Young Woman's Christian Association, presented an outline of the work being done by that organization. The first association was organized in London in 1885 and the rapid growth of the movement is evidenced by the fact that at the time of the first world's conference, held in London three years ago, and to which Mrs. Butler was a delegate, there were 1,300 associations in Great Britain alone. Mexico, Japan and South America were the only countries on the globe which were not represented. The scope of the work is identical with that of the Y. M. C. A. Its object is to help and evangelize the young women, many of whom cannot be reached by the churches. The work is carried on in two departments, city work and college work. The object of the college work is to interest young women of education and means in helping girls less fortunate. The city work is for the girls in factories and shops. For them the association provides working classes, such as in dress making and millinery, gymnasium work and devotional meetings, their purpose being to develop the young women in physical, religious and social life. Mrs. Butler closed with some instances of the work being carried on in the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. building and in an association building in one of the worst parts of Chicago.

Senator J. M. Whitehead, state president of the Y. M. C. A., was to have presented the work of that organization, but he was unable to be present.

The Christian Endeavorers

A. E. Matheson, state president of the Christian Endeavor society, told of its remarkable growth, due to the fact that it filled a want from the first. The first society was organized over twenty-one years ago in Williamson church, Portland, Maine, Dr. Clark being the pastor. It is non-sectarian, all denominations working together for the highest interests of the church and the development of self. Its motto is "For Christ and the Church" and it serves as a training school for the church. It carries on many different lines of work, but the missionary work is emphasized. The growth of the society is missionary in spirit for it is established in foreign countries and reaches every part of the world. While not distinctively a missionary society, it stimulates missionary zeal among the young people. The Macedonian phalanx is a great stimulus and societies or individuals may become members of this phalanx on payment of a certain sum on pay-ment of a certal sum to the church.

The Epworth League

Miss Harriet Rogers, president of the Epworth League of Court Street M. E. church spoke for the general society. The Epworth League is thirteen years old but it had its genesis in the church lyceum, organized in 1872 and followed by the Oxford League. In 1889 there were four young peoples' societies, bearing different names, in the Methodist church and the Epworth League was chosen by the church as its official society. A missionary chairman has recently been added to the officers of the society and the work is being pushed in foreign countries. Missions is the supreme topic for 1902 and systematic missionary study is carried on by the leagues.

Work of Young People

Miss Mary Bullock, of Madison, secretary of the missionary work for young women and children in the Wisconsin conference, spoke of the importance of the young people taking up missions so as to carry on the work of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. This parent society has organized different lines including the Young Women's Missionary society, the Children's Missionary Society and the Little Lightbearers for children under five years of age. To these lines of work the Standard Bearers was recently added to support the new missionaries needed by the Northwestern conference. This may be an auxiliary society, as any one may become a member by pledging five cents a month to the support of a certain missionary. Miss Katherine Jackman in Japan is the Wisconsin Standard Bearers' Missionary and Miss McKinley in India, is supported by the children.

Value of the Schools

Mrs. J. H. Tippett spoke feelingly of the value of the work done in missionary schools and colleges. Wherever Christianity goes, the school follows, the desire for western knowledge being one of the best signs that the leaven is working.

The instruction must be of the best and native agencies must be used more and more. Money invested in this way gives quick returns and the need for schools in foreign countries is greater than ever before.

Rev. J. T. Tippett was the last speaker and he urged people to cultivate the missionary spirit and to learn how to give out of their poverty. The person who does not believe in missions today is a back number. If we do not send our civilization to our neighbors who want it they will send their diseases to us.

A DELIGHTFUL SUPPER

Mrs. Frank Jackman Entertains the Euchre Club

Mrs. Frank H. Jackman was the hostess at a card party given yesterday afternoon at her new home on Sinclair street. Her guests were the members of an afternoon euchre club to which Mrs. Jackman and some of her close personal friends have belonged for a number of years.

The afternoon was spent in the enjoyment of the club's favorite game six-handed euchre, there being three tables of players. The contest for honors was a merry one and the beautiful plate, offered by the hostess as a prize to the most proficient player was won by Mrs. Charles H. Gage.

At six o'clock an elaborate and delicious three course supper was served at the long dining table which was daintily laid with fine linen, rare china, cut glass and costly silver. A profusion of yellow roses was used, the flowers harmonizing most effectively with the drift blue decorations in the dining room.

High School Debating Team goes North for Joint Meet.

Prof. William Norris, Harry Doran, Stow, Lovejoy, Frank Holt and William Day, left this noon for Appleton where the debate between the representative teams of the Appleton and Janesville High schools will be held this evening. The question for debate will be, "Resolved that the ultimate solution of the Cuban problem will be the annexation of the Island" and the Janesville team will defend the negative. Doran, Lovejoy, and Holt will be the speakers. Day going as alternate and Prof. Norris as the faculty representative.

In the joint debate between the two schools held in this city last year, Appleton was defeated and the Janesville debaters hope for another victory this year. They are well equipped with personal letters from United States Senators and with excellent tables of statistics. Considerable time has been spent by the young men in preparation for the debate.

BOUQUET TO MEMBERS

Rush Lyceum Hold Feast of Wit and Reason at Hotel Myers.

Members of the Rush Lyceum and their critic, Prof. William Norris, enjoyed an evening of feasting and social pleasure at the Hotel Myers, last evening, the occasion being the annual banquet with which the Lyceum closes its year of literary work.

The banquet was an elaborate three course affair and was served in the hotel ordinary. Twenty of the twenty-three members of the society were present to enjoy the appetizing spread which was served at 8:15 o'clock.

Following the supper there was a program of toasts, which, though impromptu, were bright and entertaining. Matthew Rothery, president of the Lyceum, was the efficient toastmaster and the following responses were given:

"A Bright Future for the Rush Lyceum," Frank Holt.

"The Appleton Debate," Stow Lovejoy.

"The Trials of a Treasurer," Edwin Saunders.

"The Joys of a Critic," Prof. Wm. Norris.

At the conclusion of the post-prandial program, an adjournment was taken to the parlors of the hotel, where the balance of the evening was spent in informal socialability and music.

NEWMAN-SANAGE WEDDING

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Newman, of Cooksville, Wis., was the scene of a very pretty wedding, last Wednesday evening, June 4, when their eldest daughter, Bessie and Edwin T. Sanage, of Madison, Wis., were united in marriage. At 8 o'clock the sweet strains of the wedding march, played by Warren D. Porter announced the coming of the bridal party, which was preceded by little Edna, the bride's sister, and Stanley Gillies, who carried a basket of roses which they daintily strewed along the way. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Louise Newmann, sister of the bride, and Verne Winston, of Evansville, and took the solemn vows in response to a few impressive words by the Rev. Wallace Short, of Evansville, Wis., who performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by about forty relatives and friends. The bride was very lovely in a gown of white muslin and lace and carried pure white carnations. The bridegroom also wore white and cream roses. The rooms were very tastefully decorated with palms and ferns. English ivy trailing across the lace draped arch made a very pretty setting for the bridal party. After congratulations had been extended, dainty refreshments were served. The numerous and beautiful gifts testify to the high regard in which the young couple are held. The winning disposition of the bride and the manliness of the groom have won for them a wide circle of friends.

They will make their future home in Stoughton where the best wishes of their many friends follow them. Among the many guests present from a distance were Mrs. A. E. Timball and daughter of Cincinnati, O. Mrs. Lemuel and son of Evansville and Miss Ina Gillies of Chicago were also present.

CARP RUINING LAKE KOSHKONONG

Duck Shooting at This Popular Resort Will Be Spoiled by These Imported Fish.

People living about Lake Koshkonong and who have spent years in the pursuit of game and fish declare that the shooting this fall will be worse than last year.

They claim that the indications so far this season are, that the grasses and feed in the bottom of the lake, the ducks live on is being rapidly rooted up, by the ever increasing drove of carp that infest the lake. Already, the river at the foot of the lake is filled with floating grass and roots, that are loosened by the carp in their search for food. Millions of these fish swarm in the lake and it takes them but a short time to clear out bed of wild celery or any other tender root that grows on the bottom.

By the time that the ducks arrive in October the feed is all cleaned out and it is no wonder that they do not stop in the lake. Ducks are like every other wild thing and will not stay where there is nothing to feed upon.

Many people claim that the carp have nothing to do with the scarcity of ducks during the last two years. They say that the high stage of water maintained in the lake the year round is in a measure responsible for it. This may be, but even at the present time there is hardly a place in the lake where the water is over fifteen feet deep and any of the open water birds have no trouble in feeding in that depth of water.

It was not because there were no ducks at the lake last fall, that there was no shooting, but because they did not stay after they came. Plenty of ducks came to the lake in their flight south, to have made good shooting, had they stayed any length of time. As it was they came one day and went away the next, after working all over the lake looking for feed.

The lake and the river is now so full of carp that it is almost an impossibility ever to get rid of them. The government might clean them out in a way by the use of seines, but even if a few were left they would soon increase and be as plentiful as ever.

Men who have watched the existing conditions about the lake for years say they are the same this year as last, only worse and do not look for any fall shooting of any consequence.

SCROFULA

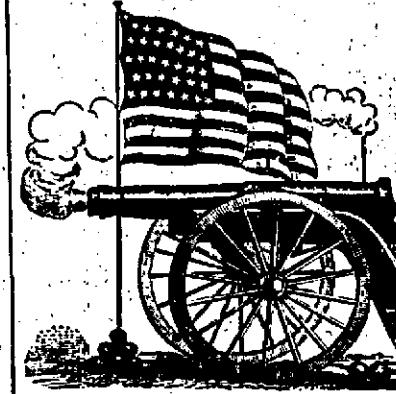

I beseech to my children Scrofula with all its attendant horrors, humiliation and suffering. This is a strange legacy to leave to posterity; a heavy burden to place upon the shoulders of the young.

This treacherous disease dwarfs the body and hinders the growth and development of the faculties, and the child born of blood poison, or scrofula-tainted parentage, is poorly equipped for life's duties.

Scrofula is a disease with numerous and varied symptoms; enlarged glands or tumors about the neck and armpits, catarrh of the head, weak eyes and dreadful skin eruptions upon different parts of the body show the presence of tubercular or scrofulous matter in the blood. This dangerous and stealthy disease entrenches itself securely in the system and attacks the bones and tissues, destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, resulting in white swelling, a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength and a gradual wasting away of the body.

S. S. S. combines both purifying and tonic properties, and is guaranteed entirely vegetable, making it the ideal remedy in all scrofulous affections. It purifies the deteriorated blood, makes it rich and strong and a complete and permanent cure is soon effected. S. S. S. improves the digestion and assimilation of food, restores the color to the skin and vigor to the weak and emaciated body.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise and help you in every possible way to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

ANOTHER LETTER ON TAX QUESTION

any such removal. The bill passed both houses without opposition and was approved by the Governor.

Senate Bill No. 214 constituted the Commission of Taxation and the Assistant Commissioners a State Board of Assessment, and repealed section 1063 of the Statutes. This board of Assessment took the place of the old State Board of Equalization, composed of the secretary of state, the state treasurer, and the attorney-general. It had all the powers of the old board, and enlarged powers under the bill with reference to compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers. This bill passed both houses of the legislature without opposition.

The Tax Commissioners were also given supervision of the county supervisors of assessment, under Assembly Bill No. 386. This bill passed both houses of the legislature without opposition. It created the office of County Supervisor of Assessments, with power to supervise and investigate the work of all local assessors.

This piece of legislation was a recognition of the necessity of placing some person in general charge, in each county, of the important business of making assessments.

The annual assessment of the property in any one of a number of counties in this state is a much more complicated matter than the entire state assessment was at the time of the adoption of the general assessment laws under which we have been operating. Uniformity of assessments is a most urgent need as a basis for an equalization of taxes. Hitherto, hundreds, I might say, thousands of assessors, have been working along individual lines in making the assessments upon which our taxes have been levied. Under this bill, the assessors of a given county will be brought under the supervision of a county assessor, and that county assessor will in turn be under the supervision of the State Tax Commission. Legislation of this character points the way to the formation of a system, to organization where, hitherto, disorganization has prevailed.

The recommendations of the Governor in regard to assessments were as follows:

"That the law with respect to the assessment of all property can be so amended, supervised and enforced as to secure uniformity of assessment and enormously increase the tax upon classes of property which now escape wholly or in part, there is not the slightest reason of doubt. With neighboring states adding two or three hundred millions to the assessed valuation of personal property in a short twelve months, we shall be derelict in our duty indeed, if we fail to strengthen the law wherever it is weak and provide for its vigorous enforcement. To this end the assessor should be clothed with authority, and it should be made his duty to interrogate under oath individuals and the officers of the corporations with respect to property. Failure to perform his duty in any case should be made the subject of such reasonable penalties as will make it possible to secure the conviction of any assessor who fails to perform his duty."

"It should furthermore be made the duty of the assessor to report to the Tax Commission, for their information, and to the district attorney of the county, any individual who refuses to answer fully, or is believed to have evaded or misstated with respect to his property, or the property of any corporation of which he is an officer. It should be made the duty of the district attorney upon receiving such information from any assessor, or upon the sworn complaint of any individual that property liable to taxation has not been assessed, or has been improperly assessed, in either case, to cite such individual or person complained of to appear before the circuit court, or a judge thereof, there to be examined and answer fully questions relative to such inquiry, and to be subject to proceedings in contempt for failure to so appear and so answer, and liable to prosecution for perjury for knowingly and willfully answering untruthfully as to any material fact upon which he is interrogated."

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

AFTON

Afton, June 5.—Afton Woodmen did not go as a body to the big picnic at Rockford last Wednesday, as a majority of the members were too busy with farm work to get away. A small delegation went from here, however.

The Memorial services, held at Brinkman's hall Saturday evening brought together a large audience, and one that thoroughly appreciated the excellent program presented. Principal A. G. Henry, of the Afton graded school, presided. The exercises comprised songs, instrumental music, recitations and an address, the latter being given by Rev. James Churn, of Janesville, head chaplain of the M. W. of A. The hall was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion.

At the regular semi-annual election of officers in the Baptist Y. P. S. C. E., held last Sunday morning, the old officers were all re-elected as follows: President, A. G. Henry; vice-president, Mary E. Waite; secretary, U. G. Waite; treasurer, O. D. Antisdel. The present membership of the society is thirty-six and there is a goodly balance in the treasury.

At the June meeting of the Afton Anti-Horse-Thief Association, held at Brinkman's hall last Tuesday evening, the names of three new members were voted on and accepted, they being George Blunk, John Broderick, and Mark Swan. At the next meeting of the association, to be held on the first Tuesday evening in September, the annual election of officers will occur.

The Baptist Sunday-School will observe Children's day the third Sunday in June this year. A suitable program is being arranged for presentation. Remember the date, June 18th.

EMERALD GROVE

Emerald Grove, June 6.—At two o'clock last Friday afternoon, a large number of people gathered at the Congregational church to renew their allegiance to the principles of freedom and justice upon which our government was founded. Rev. Herbert and Rev. Cheney gave very able and well delivered addresses, telling once more the story of trials and triumphs. The music was furnished by the Milton Lady Quartette. After the exercises, the children marched to the cemetery with wreaths and flowers and flags to decorate the final camping grounds, where rest peacefully those who have finished their course with honor.

Messrs. Wm. Boss, Jacob Larson, Ed. Hammer and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, attended the Woodmen's picnic at Rockford last Wednesday. Report a large crowd.
